

Rebekkah Ross (she/her) & Christopher Rozzi (he/him)
85 John Street, 12L
New York, NY 10038
rebekkah@gmail.com; rozilla@gmail.com
(917) 282-1490; (917) 414-4324

1

Willy & Fidget - The Tale of the Terrible Toilet!

By Rebekkah Ross and Christopher Rozzi
32 pages, Word count: 440

(pg 1-2)

Best friends Willy and Fidget had a real problem.

They were supposed to start going to the bathroom IN the bathroom. But that was where...

(pg 3-4)

THE TERRIBLE TOILET WAS!

“Yikes!” “Don’t make us go in there!”

(pg 5-6)

The terrible toilet made horrible noises! “Glurp! Tinkle! Glop! ROAR! Kerfump! WHOOSH!”

It had dreadful teeth, and beastly claws, and monstrous eyes, and...

(pg 7-8)

Okay. It didn’t have all those things. But even so, Willy and Fidget were fairly certain that if they sat there, the terrible toilet would flush them away into another dimension.

“AHHHHH!!!”

(pg 9-10)

Fidget thought another dimension could be fun, but Willy thought it all sounded too silly.

“This place is far too silly.” “Wheeeee! Look at me! I’m so twisty!”

(pg 11-12)

Willy had decided that he could go his whole life without ever going to the bathroom on the toilet. “Nope! Never. Not me.”

Fidget wasn’t so scared for herself, but she knew that Willy really wasn’t fond of other dimensions. She thought she could wait it out with Willy, but then...

(pg 13-14)

...her tummy got tight. And she kinda needed to dance.

And she felt like she might leave a little something in her pants. She couldn’t wait!

(pg 15-16)

So she ran to her room and put on her helmet for riding bikes that also seemed perfect for fighting terrible toilets.

She grabbed her trusty sword for swatting slimy creatures and her tutu for extra bravery and daring dancing do....

(pg 17-18)

...and faced the terrible toilet with a triumphant shout!

“I AM THE QUEEN!”

(pg 19-20)

And then she peed! Sitting ON THE TERRIBLE TOILET! But she didn’t stop there! She pooped too!

“This is amazing!”

(pg 21-22)

And when she had wiped her bottom, and flushed the terrible toilet, and washed her hands with soap and water, then dried them on the towel...

(pg 23-24)

...she found that she was a little disappointed that she didn't need her sword after all.

“Aw, maaaaan.”

(pg 25-26)

She told Willy about her adventure and helped him to be brave, because that's what best friends do. She even let him borrow her sword.

Willy was still a little scared, but he took a deep breath, and walked to the bathroom.

(pg 27-28)

He shouted his own triumphant shout! “I AM THE KING!”

And then... THEN! He peed and pooped on the toilet too! “I did it!”

(pg 29-30)

The two extremely brave friends rewarded themselves by making special crowns to wear for battling the terrible toilet.

Which really wasn't so terrible after all.

(pg 31-32)

“Can we play other dimensions now?” “Maybe this time I can be round like a ball!” “And you can be star-shaped!” “And what if my fur is purple glitter, and you have ice-cream fur, and...”

THE END